

WHAT IS AN ERG?

Employee Resource Groups, or ERGs are employee-led groups that engage in professional and personal developmental efforts, participate in networking activities, and support ULA's business strategies and programs. Each ERG is open to all ULA employees. ERGs may affiliate with approved external professional organizations to increase awareness, to network, and to enhance professional skills.

ERGs are involved in team building activities, engaging with the community and professional development of our employees.

For more information on Employee Resources Groups—including an ERG Calendar of Events—go to the InsideULA home page, select Human Resources under Functions and click on the Diversity and Inclusion icon.

Join us in making great things happen

API SCENE

API SCENE (Asian and Pacific Islanders Sustaining Cultural Experiences Networking for Employees) promotes employee growth through cultivating new perspectives and opportunities, and engaging with the broader Asian/Pacific Islander community.

API SCENE seeks to foster diversity and friendship within ULA while strengthening professional and personal talent.

NEBULA

NEBULA (New Employees Boosting ULA) is committed to providing networking, training, feedback, community outreach, social, and professional opportunities. NEBULA is a great way to meet new colleagues with similar interests and further professional growth!

TAALENT

TAALENT (The African-American Leadership and Engagement Networking Team) seeks to create a diverse and healthy workforce that engages with the community, endorses professional development, and encourages STEM education.

TAALENT supports a diverse group of professionals that lead, serve, and excel.

OUT IN SPACE

Out in Space (ULA's LGBTQ+ Professional Network) promotes, fosters and engages in an inclusive, welcoming environment for everyone regardless of sexual orientation or gender identity at work, at home, and within local communities.

WOMEN IN LAUNCH

WIL (Women In Launch) empowers ULA employees through education, mentoring/networking and community outreach. WIL continues the pursuit of an inclusive, engaged workforce and promotes the value of diversity to grow employees personally and professionally.
